

New relief for an age-old problem

surgical treatment options for acid reflux

Northeast Georgia
PHYSICIANS GROUP
Surgical Associates

If you have heartburn twice a week or more, you may have acid reflux disease, also known as GastroEsophageal Reflux Disease (GERD). Surgery can offer permanent relief. Come learn more about two surgical treatment options available at Northeast Georgia Medical Center, TIF (Transoral Incisionless Fundoplication), which treats the underlying cause of GERD without incisions; and laparoscopic Nissen.

Learn more at a FREE seminar presented by:

Casey J. Graybeal, MD

General and Thoracic Surgeon
Northeast Georgia Physicians Group Surgical Associates

Three opportunities to attend:

Tuesday, November 13, 6 – 7 p.m.

Hall County Library Spout Springs Branch, Flowery Branch

Thursday, November 15, 6 – 7 p.m.

Northeast Georgia Medical Center, Walters Auditorium
Gainesville

Tuesday, November 27, 6 – 7 p.m.

Gordon Pirkle Victory Lane Meeting Room
Dawsonville Municipal Complex

Registration and a light sandwich supper beginning at 5:30 p.m.
To register, call 770-219-3840 or email public.relations@nghs.com.

*“I’m now eating food I haven’t been able to eat in 30 years.
And, after 30 years of taking medications, I now take none!”*

Patient testimonial